QUICK FACT: CCTV Systems

While CCTV systems are great for surveillance, alone they have limited scope and aren't great for prevention. We recommend ensuring you integrate your camera system with a security (alarm) system.

What are you trying to protect?

My home from potential criminal activity (like break and enter).

My large property, I'd like eyes on all areas (back paddocks etc.)

Both! I'd like to have eyes on my property and protect it from potential criminal activity.

My own mobile personal security. I'd like to find a alert device for myself, family member or friend.

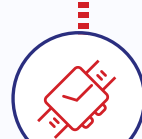

You're going to want a security or alarm system. An alarm does more to deter criminals than a CCTV camera.

A CCTV system would be effective here. Keep in mind, camera's are great for surveillance but aren't a good preventative measure.

QUICK FACT: Alarm Systems

A study by Alarm Industry Research Foundation (2009) revealed that as the number of home security systems increased in an area, the number of robberies decreased in that neighbourhood. This was true even for people who didn't have their own security system. Thereby increasing the safety of the neighbourhood.
